Bird Watcher's Haven

"Windsor - Africa's best kept secret"

Bird watching is fast becoming a popular hobby for many and Windsor is known for its many species of birds numbering approximately 240. Vincent Omanga the resident ornithologist has been very busy with in house guests and neighbors, who have decided to include bird watching in their leisurely afternoon walks in our indigenous forest "talk about killing two birds with one stone."

At any one time of the year, the Windsor is home to many migratory birds and our latest is the Ibis. The Sacred Ibis has formed a colony on the Lake View Island and turned it into a breeding site with many eggs and juveniles. For those of you who have taken up this hobby or would want to try it out, the best time for birding is early in the morning at 06:30 am - 08:00 am and late in the evening at 03:30pm - 6:00 pm.
